DEDICATION

Mr. Donald R. Hanson has been our music instructor since 1949. Under his direction the band has grown from twenty-five to one hundred sixty instruments, and the chorus from thirty girls to eighty mixed voices.

Since Blackduck High School joined the league two years ago, the chorus has won a regional trophy, and other music groups have received high ratings.

Mr. Hanson and his wife, also an outstanding musician teaching piano, organ, and voice, are the proud parents of four children.

Our school and community are indeed fortunate to have a music leader like Mr. Hanson. It is our privilege, as the Seniors of 1961, to honor him at this time.

This page is dedicated to the teenagers of Blackduck High. In years to come we will want to look back to the fads and fashions of our high school years. This page will be our memory token of our teenage life.

We all love music. It is not just a fad, but a part of our life. Not everyone has the same music interest of course, but we all share that love for music and dance, whether it is rock'n roll, western, slow, or classical.

The girls' wardrobes varied from pointed toe and squash heeled shoes, sheath dresses, bulky sweaters, pleated skirts, and knee ticklers, to sweatshirts, tennis shoes, leotards, and three or four bracelets on the wrist.

The boys' wardrobes included bulky knit sweaters, fruitboats, and slacks. Moss green and gold were the most popular colors.

Our favorite menu consisted of potato chips, chip dip, hamburgers, pizza, french fries, and pepsi.

Favorite pastimes were playing cards, out door sports, reading, and collecting stuffed animals.

DISASTER: A December fire raced through the navy's new aircraft carrier Constellation, scheduled to be commissioned in 1961, at its outfitting dock in the Brooklyn Navy Yard. The blaze took the lives of 49 workmen and sailors, caused damage estimated at $75,000,000, and set back the carrier's completion date by at least a year.

WEDDING: Marriage of the year was that of Princess Margaret, sister of Queen Elizabeth II, of Britain, and the commoner, Antony Armstrong-Jones. The rites of the Church of England were performed in famed Westminster Abbey, in London, while the whole world looked on by television. Those close to her say the princess is "extremely happy" and apparently has put from her mind her ill-starred romance with Peter Townsend. However, her husband has not yet been given a title by the queen.

STUDENT RIOTING: In Turkey, Korea, and Japan, leftist students rioted against their governments. The demonstrations failed in Turkey. But in Japan the situation became so tense (above) that President Eisenhower had to cancel a visit. In Korea, the demonstrations forced the resignation of President Syngman Rhee.

TUMULT IN CONGO: The Congo, once a Belgian colony, emerged as a new, independent nation and plunged into a year of bloodshed and turmoil. Patrice Lumumba and Joseph Kasavubu battled for power, and the United Nations dispatched an international police force in a futile attempt to restore order. The sound and the fury of the Congo obscured the fact that other African colonies peacefully attained their independence during the year.

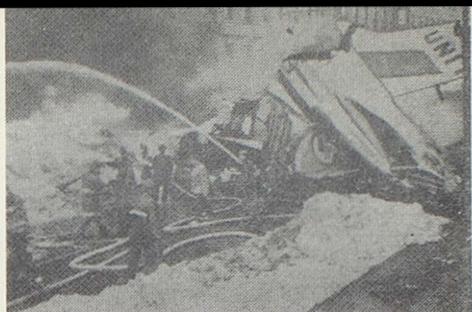

INTEGRATION: After the school board of New Orleans, obeying a federal court's orders, enrolled four Negro girls in the first grades of two public schools, white parents boycotted the schools and screamed their objections as they gathered in crowds on the streets. In other southern cities, the integration struggle took a quieter turn as Negroes staged sit-in demonstrations at store lunch counters to force abolition of segregated eating places.

WORST CRASH: In the nation's worst air disaster, a giant jet airliner and a propeller-driven transport crashed in murky skies over New York City, killing a total of 136 persons who were passengers or on the ground. The jet fell in a populous section of Brooklyn, setting fire to a church and tenements. Its wreckage is shown here. The other plane crashed in a field on Staten Island.

SPY TRIAL: A military court in Moscow sent Francis Gary Powers (right, above) to prison after a U-2 reconnaissance plane he was piloting was downed in Russia. The United States admitted it had been using U-2 planes to make secret flights over Russian territory to pinpoint missile bases and other military installations from which an attack might be launched on the Free World.

FEARSOME WEAPON: The United States created and put into operation its most fearsome weapon—the nuclear-powered submarine George Washington, carrying 16 Polaris missiles it can fire even while submerged. The submarine went on patrol—on all the oceans of the world—with unstoppable power to unleash awful destruction on the homeland of any country that would dare to attack the United States.
