DEDICATION

MRS. ANNA MAE FLOURA

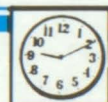

The Senior class of 1987 is proud to dedicate this year's yearbook to Mrs. Anna Mae Floura. Most of us have had Mrs. Floura for a class or two. She has been a great teacher and a great friend.

Mrs. Floura graduated from Blackduck High School in 1946. She continued her education at the University of Minnesota, where her major was Home Economics. She was inspired by her Home Economics teacher and her father. She chose her profession because she always liked home cooking.

She has been teaching since 1951 and has been at Blackduck since 1954 where she started teaching part-time. She says that what she enjoys most about teaching is being with young people, she can be creative, and the variety in her job — since no two days are ever the same.

Mrs. Floura has four children: Mary, Pat, Warren, and Joan. In her spare time she likes to bike, cross-country ski, fish, work in her garden, read, sew, and cook.

Enjoy your retirement Mrs. Floura and once again, THANK YOU!

Food Service was started in Blackduck High in the fall of 1968. The Blackduck class was one of the first in the state of Minnesota and was started as a pilot program.

The food service industry was and is one of the top and is still rapidly expanding. The state felt the need to offer a class to high school students designed to prepare them for entry level food service occupations. The program is also to prepare students and encourage them to go on to vocational schools and colleges.

The food service class has traditionally held a fall restaurant and the tradition was carried on with a 50's style restaurant called Annie's in honor of Mrs. Floura. They have also sold Monster Cookies, pies for Thanksgiving and breads for Christmas. They do many things for the school and the community.

Coach Kovar:

“Although the Golf team didn’t place anyone into the 1986 region tournament, it was still a very successful year. The Drakes placed in the upper half of every tournament they played in. Returning for the 1987 season will be all four of the Drakes starters from a year ago. The 1987 season should prove to be a great year.”

TAKING IT ALL OFF

—Taken from the Bemidji Pioneer
By Twila Schmitt, Staff Writer

Ten students at Blackduck Schools bet their hair in the student council's challenge to raise 1,500 pounds of food in two weeks for the Beltrami Community Food Shelf which serves needy families throughout the county.

Classes competed with one another and the combined effort far surpassed the goal resulting in 2,537 pounds of food, according to Trish Holmgren, student body president.

The sophomores were victorious in raising the most food at 601 pounds.

As reward for their efforts, all the students assembled Monday in the school gymnasium to witness the buzz cuts of two of the 10 who had bet their hair.

"A" J. Greuel is getting his hair cut shorter than it's ever been. "B" T. Holmgren was the emcee for the afternoon of hair shaving. "C" A. Haiby receives his hair cut as well from local barber, Ken Gustafson. "D" S. Anderson, G. Harmon, L. Harmon, and D. Bergin also willingly gave up their hair. "E" K. Gustafson, C. Chase (the Food Shelf Rep.), Mr. Merrill, and Mr. Mathews watch as T. Holmgren explains about the food drive.

While Greuel received a "flat-top" cut, Alan Haiby, a junior, now sports a "full buzz." The remaining eight students (Scott Anderson, Danny Harmon, Tom Fletcher, Greg Harmon, Lonnie Harmon, John Macki, Art Lyons and Dave Bergin) have been given certificates to receive one of the above cuts at Gustafson's shop by Monday, January 19, or else.

Principal Tom Mathews said he is proud of the work the students have done, and hopes they will continue the project in coming years.

"In these days when hair styles have become so important to everyone, seeing these kids willing to have their hair drastically altered is really great," Mathews said.
